PRETRIAL AGREEMENTS WITH OPPOSING COUNSEL

Here is a list of pretrial agreements to try to reach with the other side before discovery begins. These agreements will make life easier for both sides and do not advantage one side over the other. Waiting until you are in the heat of battle to try to reach these agreements, one side or the other will feel disadvantaged. Place a check mark in the "Agreed" column for all the agreements that are reached. Any modifications or additions should be noted.

Item No.	Description	Agreed	Source of Agreement
1.	As to any discovery dispute, the lead lawyers will try to resolve by phone and no one will write letters to the other, including letters attached as pdf's to emails: just e-mails and phone calls. Each side will copy all of its emails to the email group distribution list provided by the other side
2.	Before depositions begin, we will try to agree on how long the trial will last and ask the Court to give us a firm trial setting and to establish the length of the trial. Whatever time is allotted will be divided equally.
3.	Depositions will be taken by agreement, with both sides alternating and trying in advance to agree upon the dates for depositions, even before the deponents are identified. Each side gets hours to depose fact witnesses and only one of such depositions can last more than 3 hours. This does not include 30(b)6 depositions.
4.	At depositions, all objections to relevance, lack of foundation, non-responsiveness, speculation or to the form of the question will be reserved until trial, so there will be no reason for the defending lawyer to say anything other than to advise the client to assert a privilege or to adjourn the deposition because the questioner is improperly harassing the witness. If counsel violate this agreement, the other side can play counsel's comments/objections to the jury
5.	The parties will use the same court reporter/videographer, who agrees to provide specified services at discounted prices for the right to transcribe all depositions.

All papers will be served on the opposing party by e- mail. For purposes of calculating the deadline to respond, email service will be treated the same as hand –delivery
Documents will be produced on a rolling basis as soon as they have been located and numbered; if copies are produced, the originals will be made available for inspection upon request.
If the case is in federal court, the parties will seek an order from the court, under FRE 502(d), providing: Each side must initially produce electronically stored information from the files of 5 custodians selected by the other side during an agreed period of time. Only documents which have a lawyer's name on them can be withheld from production and only if they are in fact privileged. Production does not waive any privilege and documents can be snapped back whenever the producing party recognizes they are privileged. After analyzing the initial production, each side can request electronic files from 5 other custodians. Beyond that, good cause must be demonstrated.
Whether in federal court or not, the parties will produce ESI in the native format kept by the producing party, or in a common interchange format, such as Outlook/PST, Concordance or Summation, so it can be searched by the other side. If any special software is required to conduct a search in native format and is regularly used by the producing party, it must be made available to the other side. The parties will produce a Bates numbered file listing of the file names and directory structure of what is on any CDs or DVDs exchanged. Either side may use an e-mail or an attachment to an e-mail that came from one of these previously produced disks by printing out the entire e-mail (and the attachment if they are using a file that came with an e-mail) and marking it at the deposition or trial, and either side may use application data (which

9.	If agreement cannot be reached on the form of a protective order within 48 hours of the time they are exchanged, both sides will write a letter to the Court including each other's preferred version and, without argument, ask Court to select one or the other ASAP.
10.	All deposition exhibits will be numbered sequentially X-1, X-2, etc., regardless of the identity of the deponent or the side introducing the exhibit and the same numbers will be used in pretrial motions and at trial.
11.	The parties will share the expense of imaging all deposition exhibits.
12.	We will exchange expert witness reports that provide the disclosures required by the Federal Rules. Neither side will be entitled to discovery of communications between counsel and expert witnesses or to drafts of experts' reports. There will be no depositions of experts unless an expert's report is incomprehensible or incomplete, in which case the party seeking clarification is required to establish the same by motion filed with the Court
13.	The production of a privileged document does not waive the privilege as to other privileged documents. Documents that the other side claims are privileged can be snapped back as soon as it is discovered they were produced without any need to show the production was inadvertent.
14.	Each side has the right to select 20 documents off the other's privilege list for submission to the court for in camera inspection.
15.	We will agree to a briefing schedule and page limitations for all pretrial motions.
16.	We will agree upon jury questionnaire.

EXHIBIT B

Questions by the Jurors During Trial

- 1. The court will read the attached instructions included to the jury after the jury is seated and may repeat any or all of these instructions to remind the jury of its role. These instructions explain the procedure that will be used to allow jurors to submit written questions.
- 2. After the parties have asked their own questions of each witness who appears and testifies, jurors will be given the opportunity to write any questions they may have for the witness on the attached juror question form.
- 3. To the extent possible, the court will take steps to maintain the anonymity of any juror who asks a question. The court will instruct jurors not to put their names on juror question forms. The court will provide each juror a juror question form in the jury box and ask each juror to pass the form to the bailiff at the end of the witness examination. The court will have every juror pass down his or her juror question form—even if the juror did not write a question on the form—in order to preserve anonymity.
- 4. Upon receipt of a written question from the jury, the court will allow the parties, outside the hearing of the jury, to make objections to the question on the record and obtain a ruling. On its own initiative or upon a party's request, the court may remove the witness from the courtroom before reviewing the question or allowing the parties to object to the question.
- 5. In its discretion, the court may reword the question or decide that the question should not be asked. If the court rewords the question, the court should read the reworded question and allow the parties to make objections to the reworded question on the record and obtain a ruling outside the jury's hearing.
- 6. If the court allows a verbatim or reworded juror question, the court may either ask the question or allow a party to ask the question of the witness. The parties will be allowed to ask any follow-up questions.
- 7. The court will include any completed juror question form in the record.

INSTRUCTION ON JUROR QUESTIONS

After the parties have asked their own questions of each witness and before each witness is excused, you may submit in writing any questions you have for that witness. Any questions you submit should be about the testimony the witness has given. Your questions should not give an opinion about the case, criticize the case, or comment on the case in any way. You should not argue with the witness through a question.

I will review all your questions with the parties privately. Keep in mind that the rules of evidence or other rules of court may prevent me from allowing some questions. I will apply the same rules to your questions that I apply to the parties' questions. Some questions may be changed or rephrased, and others may not be asked at all. If a question you submitted is not asked, do not take it personally and do not assume it is important that your question is not asked.

You must treat the answers to your questions the same way you treat any other testimony. You must carefully consider all the testimony and other evidence in this case before deciding how much weight to give to particular testimony.

Remember that you are neutral fact finders and not advocates for either party. You must keep an open mind until all the evidence has been presented, the parties have finished their summations, and you have received my instructions on the law. Then, in the privacy of the jury room, you will discuss the case with the other jurors.

Any question you submit should be yours alone and not something you got from another person. That is because of my overall instruction that you must not discuss the case among yourselves or with anyone else until you have heard my final instructions on the law, and I have instructed you to begin your deliberations.

JUROR QUESTION FORM

You may submit one or more questions about the witness's testimony. Your questions should be short. You may not give an opinion about the case, criticize the case, or comment on the case in any way. You may not argue with the witness through a question. Your questions should be yours alone and not something you got from another juror.

Write your questions, if any, on this form. Do not put your name on the form. The judge will apply the same rules to your questions that the judge applies to the parties' questions. These rules are based on various rules of law and procedure. Some questions may be changed or rephrased, and others may not be asked.

You must treat the answers to your questions the same way you treat any other testimony. You must carefully consider all the testimony and other evidence in this case before deciding how much weight to give particular testimony. And you must not discuss this case with a fellow juror until the judge has told you to begin your deliberations.
